FISHER & RADCLIFFE

The heart of America in song

A duo from the internationally-touring “Rolling Roots Revue” troupe, this dynamic pair covers the cultural history of America, performing music from the Appalachian, Country, Blues, Vaudeville, Jug Band, Early Jazz and Ragtime traditions.

A dazzling array of instruments (piano, guitar, ukulele, washboard, fiddle and mandolin to name a few), beautiful harmonies, and an upbeat patter make for an uplifting evening of entertainment.

Deborah Anne Fisher is the newest member of the Wepecket family. Her clear and powerful voice give perfect expression to the blues, ballads and her own collection of songs from the heart. She accompanies herself on guitar and ukulele, and also lends her wonderful voice to harmony vocals.

"Ragtime" Jack Radcliffe has been hailed by bluesman Larry Johnson as "the undisputed master of country blues piano." Recently inducted into the Old Time Country Music Hall of Fame, ragtime, old-time and good-time music are his stock in trade and his jaunty delivery and witty repartee make it all the more fun. Jack also wields the guitar, fiddle and mandolin when needed.
